SC ARTS COMMISSION CALLS FOR CREATIVE SLOGANS FOR NEW ARTS AWARENESS LICENSE PLATE

COLUMBIA, S.C. – The South Carolina Arts Commission is inviting the public to submit ideas for a slogan that will appear on the new specialty arts awareness license plate, which the commission plans to introduce by mid-2006.

Slogans should be short, imaginative and have reference to the arts in South Carolina. The individual who submits the winning phrase will be recognized at a special arts awareness license plate unveiling ceremony.

Proceeds from the sale of the specialty plates will help bring arts programs and education to communities across the state by supporting the continued development of South Carolina's culturally diverse arts resources and organizations.

To submit slogans, visit www.SouthCarolinaArts.com , click on the "Arts Awareness License Plate" link and complete the submission form.

About SCAC

The South Carolina Arts Commission provides grants, services and leadership to arts organizations, schools and individual artists to preserve and promote the arts across the spectrum of South Carolina's cultures and forms of expression. The agency strives to make the arts accessible to all South Carolinians, enhancing quality of life and contributing significantly to the state's economic well-being. Headquartered in Columbia, S.C., the Arts Commission draws on the resources of state tax dollars appropriated by the South Carolina General Assembly and the federal government through the National Endowment for the Arts. For more information, visit www.SouthCarolinaArts.com or call (803) 734-8696.
